Ref: The Arm-R-Lite Touch

There is no doubt that Arm-R-Lite is one of the brightest stars, in a field of Overhead Door Manufacturers.

Their products are outstanding, especially the Aluminum Electra and Titan series. The aluminum sections are welded together to insure structural integrity. This is just one of the many Arm-R-Lite touches that make their products outstanding.

Especially important to our Company is their attention to details, and meeting special design to suit the most demanding plans and specifications. They also excel at manufacturing the standard products, which in our case are always needed promptly.

They respond quickly to our request for quotes when needed, and acknowledge our orders the next day in detail. The delivery process is handled efficiently, by experienced managers. This assures us that our orders are each receiving their special attention.

As a dealer, with many choices of overhead door manufacturers, we can state that Arm-R-Lite has their act together, and will get the job done right.

We definitely recommend the use of their products to other dealers, who will also get hooked by the Arm-R-Lite touch.

Sincerely,

Ray Magliore
